

Brief Economic Facts

HOWARD COUNTY, MARYLAND

Howard County is one of the nation's premier communities, centrally located between two of the nation's largest metropolitan areas, Washington D.C. and Baltimore. With nearly 310,000 residents and one of the nation's most educated workforces, the county is nationally recognized as one of the best places in the U.S. to live, work and raise a family. It is at the center of the growing cyber security industry due to proximity to Fort George Meade, U.S. Cyber Command and National Security Agency. The county is also home to major research institutions such as Johns Hopkins Applied Physics Lab and companies like W.R. Grace, Accuvant Federal Solutions, Tenable, and The Coastal Companies.

Howard County offers a blend of pastoral farms, historic towns, suburban communities, urban amenities and diversity. The county is also widely recognized for its friendly business climate. Corporate citizens range from defense contractors and biotech companies to information technology, telecom, multi-national corporations, wholesale distributors, 3D printing and additive manufacturing. Howard County's 9,400 businesses employ 143,000 workers. Major private sector employers include Dreyer's Ice Cream, Leidos, Lorien Health Systems, Northrop Grumman, and Verizon Wireless. Business parks are strategically located along the I-95 corridor and provide easy access to BWI Thurgood Marshall Airport, Port of Baltimore, Washington D.C. and Baltimore. Howard County is also home to the Maryland Center for Entrepreneurship, one of the state's leading incubators.
